

TRAFFIC OFFICER TO HELP DETZLER NAMED BY BOARD

Wilson Reinstated to Assist in Enforcing Regulations—
Reject "Riot" Guns.

Discussion of adequate means of enforcing the recent parking ordinance, the reinstatement of Clyde N. Wilson, 434 S. Main st., who will assist in seeing that the new parking ordinance is enforced, and the removal of the "riot" guns from the police department consumed the greater part of the regular weekly meeting of the board of public safety, held last night.

The reinstatement of Wilson, who has resigned three times from the department, was voted upon after Chief Lane requested the board to allow him another officer, familiar with traffic work, to assist Sgt. Edward Denzler, who has been patrolling the downtown section since the new ordinance was adopted. A careful check could not be kept on the machines that have been violating the new parking limitation and the reinstatement of Wilson together with the officer now assigned to the work, is expected to provide ample means of having the law abided by.

Wilson has served almost six years on the local police force since his first appointment in 1911, during which time he was assigned chiefly to traffic work. He severed his connections with the department for the third time on Jan. 1, 1918 to enter business for himself in another city. Since that time he has made numerous applications for reinstatement. It is said. He will be assigned to traffic work. He has passed the physical examination and has completed other minor details.

To Station Signs

The board instructed Chief Lane to see that all parking signs are taken in and repainted and again placed in positions where required. According to the new parking law it will be illegal in the future for persons or business houses to station parking signs in front of their establishments. All parking signs in the future are to be placed by the police department and changed only on their order. A number of cases have been reported to the police concerning parking in front of the hydrants and orders were given by the board that "no parking" signs be painted on the pavement in front of all hydrants. The 16 feet of hydrants will be strictly enforced and orders were issued to remove them.

The proposed purchase of "riot" guns was abolished when Chief Lane reported that the department was sufficiently prepared with such types of guns. A dozen tear bombs, recently purchased by the board, together with the shot guns now on hand were deemed sufficient to cope with any situation that might arise.

The department has been equipped with a Johnson motor attachment for the police boat to care for accidents such as the Madison Lake tragedy. A test will be made of the new attachment during the coming week at which time the board will decide whether or not it will be retained.

The board authorized the sale of two Gray and Davis, two-cycle, two cylinder, six-horsepower motors which were formerly used in the police boat.

Decide Not to Have Him on

Program at International
Sunday School Confab.

COLEMBUS, O., April 21.—William Jennings Bryan will not be asked to speak before the International Sunday School association's convention at Kansas City, June 21-27, not because of his theological views but because he "is not a practical Sunday school man," it was asserted here Friday by Prof. Walter R. Athern, dean of the school of religious education of Boston university. Dean Athern is chairman of the committee on education of the International Sunday school council of religious education, which meets here tomorrow. He also is a member of the program committee for the convention which is to meet here next Tuesday.

This committee, according to Athern has decided that Mr. Bryan will not be asked to address the convention. When it meets here, he said, it will give out a statement telling why.

Dean Athern said this statement probably would set forth that arrangements for Mr. Bryan's appearance had been made by a sub-committee which did not have power to decide definitely.

Other men of equal public importance had been booked as speakers, he said, with the idea that they would draw large crowds, but when the committee made its report, it was decided to invite for the Sunday school experts and educators rather than well-known men to address the convention.

The committee on education during the meeting here will draft a four year program. Dean Athern was elected to preside over the meeting.

Charles Fuchs, William Robinson and William Krow, all of Lakeville, Ind., yesterday began serving indeterminate terms in Michigan state penal institutions for violation of the liquor laws, according to advices received from Hastings, Mich.

Fuchs and Robinson were convicted in circuit court at Hastings Wednesday and fined $1,000 and $100 respectively. They were each sentenced to six months to one year at the Indiana penitentiary.

Krow was sentenced to a year at trial Thursday and was found guilty by the same court was fined $500 and costs and ordered committed in Jackson prison for the same indeterminate period.

The three men were charged with unlawful possession and transportation of liquor resulting from their alleged carrying of 35 gallons of "moonshine" liquor from near Lakeville to Cleveland, Mich., where Robinson and Krow were taken into custody. Krow was arrested at the Locksted farm, near Lakeville, and taken to Hastings to stand trial with his companions.

The Michigan law gives twice the heavier penalty of the Indiana statute for illicit liquor possession or manufacture. Fuchs received the maximum. The cases against the three men were heard before Judge Clement Smith of Barry county. They left for their respective penal homes Friday in custody of deputy sheriffs.

Defective chimneys were the cause of two roof fires on Friday morning. At 11:10 o'clock No. 4 hose department was called to the residence of Anthony Novak, 418 Arnold st., where fire caused $13 damage. A second fire at 1:15 o'clock No. 3 hose department answered a still alarm to the residence of Mrs. Penrose, 419 N. Hill st., where damage was estimated at $15.

SONS OF MICHIGAN FARMER IN COURT FIGHT OVER ESTATE

Williams Has Brother Arrested
Less Than Week After Death of Father.

CASSOPOLIS, Mich., April 22.—In less than a week after they were chief mourners at the funeral of their father, Isaac N. Williams, wealthy eccentric farmer of Newberg township, Fred Williams, of Norwood Park, Ill., former justice of the peace there, and his brother James, Newberg farmer, will be arrayed against each other in justice of the Peace Eber Reynolds' court here in a fight over the estate.

Fred and his wife, Emma, were arrested Thursday, charged with the larceny of $900. James, his brother, charged that in violation of a verbal agreement not to enter the home of their eccentric father, the Norwood Park man after the funeral ransacked the homestead and found papers which directed him to the hiding place of their father's wealth.

When arrested Fred had a deposit slip of a Cassopolis bank showing he had banked $800. He asserted that he went to the Farmers' and Merchants' bank, Jones, which recently failed, and that the caretaker there handed him an envelope. Fred declared the clerk said that the elder Williams had given instructions to deliver the money to him personally.

To Search Farm House, A will found by the officers in the Williams homestead named both sons executors, but James, who caused his brother's arrest, has Roy C. Beardslee, Cass county clerk, appointed as special executor. The latter has instructed officers to make a thorough search of the Newberg farm house where $10,000 is said to have been secreted.

The elder Williams, who lived less than a mile from his son, James, is said to have denied anyone access to the home. Fred has lived in Norwood Park for 12 years and seldom visited Cass county.

Williams realized that he was dying on Good Friday. He went to his son's home. On his death bed he is said to have made the request that no one go to the old homestead until after the funeral. James asserts his older brother, without consulting him, had intentions of taking the homestead after they had returned from the cemetery last Sunday, and remained there all night.

The elder brother declares his arrest is an outrage and that he will sue for the $900 is determined.

LARGE NUMBER TO HEAR SHANK TALK

Extensive Arrangements Being Made for Coming of Indianapolis Mayor Tuesday.

Having touched the greater part of Indiana in behalf of the campaign for the nomination of Albert J. Beveridge for senator, and meeting with enthusiastic receptions everywhere, Lew Shank, mayor of Indianapolis, and Amelia R. Keller, also of Indianapolis, are planning to visit South Bend, and will speak here at the high school auditorium Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Extensive arrangements have been made by the St. Joseph committee in charge of the Beveridge campaign and the Indianapolis committee following in this county assures a packed house for the speakers.

Lew Shank today is one of the most prominent figures in the state. His election as mayor of the Hoosier metropolis came in spite of tremendous opposition. Such political experiences, coupled with his natural ability as an orator, have made him an interesting and forceful speaker. His colleague, Dr. Amelia Keller, is well known at Indianapolis where she has been active in women's work for some years, and was formerly president of the state federation of women's clubs.
